OCEAN AVENUE BILLOWS WILL SUBSIDE DURING THE SUMMER

MR. PRESIDENT: I move you that we award the IVI contract for Ocean Avenue improvement to the lowest bidder, S. Ruthven.—Trustee Newberry.

I second the motion.—Trustee Parkes.

AYE! rang out loud and clear from five throats at the calling of the roll, and Ocean Avenue improvement was under way. But every one will breathe easier when the first sack of cement raises the dust on our main thoroughfare.

The council chamber was packed to its fullest capacity with an overflow meeting on the sidewalk, on Tuesday evening, by those who were expecting the bids on Ocean avenue work to be read.

It was a tense moment when the city clerk opened the envelopes. First came the Englehart Paving and Construction Co. with a bid of $30,550. Everyone leaned forward, strained, to catch the figures of the next bid. It was from S. Ruthven of Monterey and the amount was $27,984. All breathed once more.

Then Trustee Newberry gave the crowd a bad fright by stating that Ruthven's bid was higher than it should be in order to make the cost of the incidentals, plus the cost of the road, come within the amount collected from the assessments. He stated that the situation might be met by re-assessment, or by either of the alternatives, viz; that of revising the specifications and re-advertising for bids, or waiting until the fall of the year when the work might be done at a lower price.

Chairman Maxwell called upon the citizens present for expressions of opinion. John B. Jordan, owner of Pine Inn and Ray C. DeYoe of the Carmel Realty Co. spoke of the need for immediate action and suggested financing the balance of the amount by popular subscription. Mason Schlosser asked the city attorney if such a proceeding was legal; Mr. Campbell replied that it could be done but that it was not a good business proceeding. Mr. DeYoe asked Contractor Ruthven if he would accept a proposition to begin work with a guarantee from responsible citizens for the balance of the amount. Mr. Ruthven stated that he could not do this.

The trustees then discussed the expenses incidental to a re-assessment, which City Engineer Fisher stated would be nominal. Argyll Campbell read some law on the matter, and the resolution was adopted that provides a street on our main thoroughfare, instead of a mountain trail.

There was wild applause from the packed auditorium which resounded up and down the billowy way.

Byington Ford of the Del Monte Properties Co. submitted maps and plans of the new subdivision north of town to be called "Carmel Woods." A motion was carried to approve the plans as submitted. The board then adjourned to meet on Tuesday, June 6th, when the bids for the Ocean avenue bonds will be opened.

NEW DRUG STORE OPEN FOR BUSINESS

The Palace Drug Company of Monterey, with branch stores at Del Monte and New Monterey, has extended its business with the opening of a new branch establishment in this city, occupying premises in the Storie building on Ocean avenue next to the Pine Cone office.

Carmel people have long done business with this firm and know something of the complete and diversified lines of merchandise carried in the Monterey store. The Carmel store will be splendidly stocked and will also have the main store to draw from.

In addition to drugs, toilet articles, kodaks, novelties, etc., phonographs and records will be an important department.

Doctors' prescriptions will be compounded by a competent graduate in pharmacy.

DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY AND RADIO CONCERT

Last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hand entertained a number of friends in honor of the third anniversary of their marriage. The diminutive cake surrounded by kewpie dolls and ornamented with a single candle caused some surprise until it was explained that the day was the first anniversary of their small daughter's birth, which gave an added cause for festivity.

Herbert juggled with the radio contraptions for a while and some orchestral selections from Del Monte station were heard.

Mrs. Hand, assisted by Mrs. L. T. Ward served dainty refreshments at the close of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hand, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Overstreet, Captain and Mrs. L. T. Ward, Messrs. H. E. Nye, T. G. Fisher, Kenneth Ward, Herbie Heron, J. B. Torres and Phyllis Overstreet.

CO-OPERATION OF PEOPLE INVITED IN STATEMENT BY CAPT. MAXWELL

OUR CITY GOVERNMENT

The purpose of this article is to inform their city government, and to tell them what it is, and how it is conducted, and how their money is spent.

1.—Carmel's official family numbers twenty-three officials, as follows:—the Board of Trustees, the City Planning Commission appointed by the Trustees, the Sanitary Board, City Attorney, Clerk, Treasurer, Recorder (Police Judge), Marshal, Engineer, Fire Chief, Health Officer, Electrical Inspector and Sanitary Inspector.

2.—Of these, the following only receive any compensation. Treasurer—$5.00; Recorder—$5.00; Attorney—$20.00; Clerk—$50.00; Marshal—$125.00, each per month. The Electrical and Sanitary Inspector receives a small fee for each permit issued.

3.—The Sanitary Board is elected just as are the Trustees, but is an entirely independent body. It was organized long before Carmel became an incorporated city of the sixth class. As the city grows and develops, such an arrangement, or rather lack of arrangement, will not work for the best interests of the community, and is bound to bring about practically the same conditions such as could be expected from putting two captains in command of the same ship. This matter should be remedied as soon as practicable.

4.—The city revenues are derived from several sources, the principal ones being the assessment levied upon real estate, and improved real estate. There is also the personal property tax, fines and penalties (mostly in the form of delinquent taxes of the above classes) and last of all licenses. Assessments on real estate and improvements bring in about $6300 per annum under the present assessment rate, while fines and penalties, which come in in dribs and drabs each month, produce from a few to as much as $200 in some months. Licenses produce very little revenue—about $300 per year—which is due to the fact that they cover such a limited field—the transportation of passengers and freight, peddlers, dogs and cats. No other business pays a license, which is a very unusual situation, and seems to be peculiar to the City of Carmel.

5.—The city's fiscal year corresponds with the calendar year, or begins January 1 and ends December 31. With quite definite knowledge in advance of the extent of the funds available for the conduct of the city expenses for the new year, a definite program of what is needed and what can be done with funds available, should be mapped out. This program should be very carefully considered and should keep in mind the most urgent needs of the city in its several departments, not omitting such progressive features as good judgment may dictate. Deviation from such a plan should be made only where some unforeseen matter of urgency has to be met, or where it develops that there has been some error of judgment. Such a program should include among other things, the proper maintenance of streets and drainage of same; ample fire protection; an adequate water supply; and many other matters less vital. Our City Planning Commission was called into being to assist in such matters, but it will be of great assistance to all of us if our townsmen will take enough interest to aid us with their ideas and suggestions. Constructive co-operation of this kind will do more for Carmel than adverse criticism. The idea of "let George do it" is the easiest way, but it brings no results.

ing the new Board of Trustees are:—1st, obtaining an adequate water supply for both domestic purposes and fire protection; 2nd, securing some very badly needed fire equipment; 3rd, putting our streets in proper condition and providing necessary drainage for them; 4th, a serious shortness of available funds for carrying out any of the above. These matters all have been taken up, and the work of getting them started has made some progress. The people have been urged to file their complaints with the Commissioner of Light and Water regarding the water service at their houses, but the response has been almost negligible so far. How do they expect us to accomplish any thing in this matter without their help? When we secure the desired data, the case will go forward, and it is assumed that we will be able to present it to the State Railroad Commission some time this summer. It takes some time to install a new water system, and the sooner we get at this matter, the sooner we will have it started. Wake up!

It was hoped that we would be able to have the highway leading into town from the north end put into good condition all the way through. The county officials made a survey of the road and San Carlos through town and made us an estimate of $1000.00 for putting the entire stretch in first class condition, the work to begin whenever we wished, and to be done at actual cost. We had to abandon this owing to shortness of funds. This is to be greatly regretted for the road is going to pieces very rapidly and will cost proportionately more the longer it is neglected.

Our fire equipment is in a deplorable state, and should have immediate attention, but here again we are

NEW PENINSULA LOTS NOW ON THE MARKET

Much progress is being made toward putting on the market at once the Romie Jacks tract near the Monterey Union High School. The nearest section will be designated the Wood Lots, which savors of the days of old when lots were disposed of by the Pueblo of Monterey under that title.

A number of lots and acreages have already been sold, among them lots to Mr. Hearne and to Mrs. Wm. Sandholdt. The sales were made before the ground was advertised or completely plotted. Many inquiries have been received without solicitation from the owner or his agents.

The opening of this splendid tract should prove a great factor in the improvement and expansion of Monterey.

The historic town was held back for years by the tenacity with which owners held the large acreage around it. With the present owners of the Jacks' interests showing a desire to sell, it would seem that one of the drawbacks to development has not only been removed but a potential force for good put in its place, in that big land owners not only want to sell but that they are using every effort to accomplish that end.

George P. Garin & Co., Chicago realtors, who have handled many California properties, are the selling agents.

LA PLAYA'S NINTH YEAR CELEBRATION

Nine years ago Mrs. Agnes D. Signor opened the Chris Jorgensen studio to the public under the name of Hotel La Playa. She had four bedrooms, a bath, a sitting-room and a 12 x 13 kitchen. Her first party of guests took all of her sleeping accommodations, so that she had to hang out the S. R. O. sign when the stage dumped two more passengers at her door. Now, she houses 125 people in an up-to-date hotel. On Tuesday evening there gathered under her roof as representative a crowd of people as have assembled in Carmel in many a day.

The affair was a celebration of the ninth anniversary of La Playa's opening, and the cards of invitation were issued by Mrs. Signor and her nephew and assistant, Harrison Godwin. No expense or trouble was spared in giving the event. Moffit's orchestra furnished the music for dancing, the decorations were in good taste, and the hosts exerted themselves to give their numerous guests a very enjoyable time. Many of the ladies were in evening dress, which always lends an air of festivity to a party. Dainty refreshments were provided and altogether the evening marked an epoch in the history of Carmel as well as that of Hotel La Playa.

Carmel Teacher Married

Miss Marie May Guichard of Ben Lomond and James B. McGrury of Hollister were married in Santa Cruz at Holy Cross Church on Saturday morning last. The ceremony was followed by an elaborate wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left on an auto tour of the south.

On their return they will live at the McGrury ranch near Hollister, where the groom is of a prominent family.

Miss Guichard is well known in this community, having been a teacher in the local public school for nearly three years.

Relief for the Distressed

The local committee of relief for the Near East, with Miss Helen Parkes as chairman, are starting today on a house-to-house canvas for contributions to be applied to saving the lives of children of Armenia who are hungry and crying for food. It would seem that out of our abundance we should give very substantially to those who are dying of hunger, even though in a far off land. Miss Helen Parkes, Miss Mary E. Mower, Mrs. Calvin Meade and Miss Alice McChesney or Miss Jessie White will call upon you shortly for cash contributions, and during the first week of June contributions of clothing will be solicited and received at the Methodist Church in the afternoon of June 6th and morning of June 7.

Business Men File Certificates

Alfred B. Mignola, of Salinas, proprietor of the Mignola Saw & Vice Co., and A. J. Mason, of Monterey, proprietor of the Bay Rapid Transit Co., have filed certificates in County Clerk T. P. Joy's office reciting that they are transacting business under fictitious names.

Beware.

invited to Robinson's Christmas dinner. On the way there Brown remarked to Johnson and Green:

"By the way, you fellows, I just want to give you a friendly warning. Beware of Robinson's champagne!"

So when the drinks were produced, Johnson and Green said they would drink nothing stronger than lemonade.

Much to their surprise, however, Brown did not follow their example, but drank the champagne. So on the way home they asked him:

"What really was the matter with Robinson's champagne?"

"Oh, the quality was all right," replied Brown quietly. "It was the quantity I thought would be deficient—not enough for everybody."—London Ideas.

A paint dealer has in his office a little house which is made of interchangeable parts. The roof, for instance, is black and the side walls and perches are of some contrasting color. If he wishes to show the customer the effect of different color combinations he simply exchanges some of the parts of the house for other parts of different shades.

He says it has helped him in many cases to secure contracts which otherwise he could not have closed so easily. The expense of the contrivance is not great and it paid for itself in a short time.

New Study of Child.

Child study from the standpoint of the mother is the subject of a course offered by the College of Industrial Arts at Denton, Texas, which is the state college for women, according to a recent issue of School Life. The course consists of lectures, library readings and psychological laboratory work, and is intended to fit the young woman to be mistress of a home and the mother of a family. Child instincts and interests, heredity and environment, subnormal and defective children, diseases of children, and the moral and religious nature of children are all fully studied.

India's Fertility.

India, more than half the size of Europe, has every variety of surface, climate and production. The contrast between the level monotony of the Great plain and the beautiful contours of the Milgiri and Pulney hills is no greater than that between the arid heat of Jacobabad and the polar fridity of the Himalayas; or that between the palm groves of Cochin and the wheat fields of Lyallpur. The productivity of India extends over three zones: the tropical, sub-tropical, and temperate; though on account of varying elevations these do not always comply with mere considerations of latitude.

NEWS FROM THE HIGHLANDS

Dr. V. O. Whitcomb, who sold his residence near the Inn a short time ago, is building on the adjoining property. An elaborate rock stairway with walls and garden bench, also of rock, leads from the road below to the house. The house is rock-faced with rustic finish inside. A fireplace and chimney running clear to the roof gable is especially beautiful.

Thomas Shrewsbury Parkhurst and his sister, Mrs. E. R. Chamberlin, returned from their San Francisco shopping trip last Friday. They are now entertaining Mrs. Jessica White.

spending a month or two at the Inn.

Mrs. Thomas White of San Francisco is a frequent visitor at the Inn. She is registered there at present.

Mrs. F. A. Grogan from Omaha has many friends here, who are pleased to know that she is planning to spend the summer at the Highlands.

Miss Elizabeth Tompkins has left for a visit in San Francisco.

Martin Flavin of Chicago, business man and playwright, with his family, arrived at the Inn a few days ago. Mr. Flavin is erecting one of the show places of the Highlands. It is about a mile from the Inn, out at Yankee Point. The house has several distinguishing features, among them being the arched ceiling, the walled-in courtyard, the outside staircase leading to the upper story, which last gives quite a suggestion of the Spanish type of architecture. The house is of granite, is built like the rock of Gibraltar, and its cost is estimated at $50,000.

The approach to the house is by way of the new scenic drive, which winds down past the residences of Mrs. N. W. George and Judge Rose. Mr. Flavin's home seems to be the furthestmost south of the Highlands colony, but it is understood that a number of houses are planned in that section.

A delightful "honeymoon" recital was given last Sunday afternoon at Highlands Inn. The leading lady and gentleman were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Argall of San Jose, recently married. Mr. Argall is well known to several local musicians who gathered at the Inn to welcome him and his bride. An impromptu program was arranged, Tom Cator, Miss Johnston and Mr. Argall himself furnishing the music. Claude was formerly a member of the really famous Argall Quartette, known far and wide to all lovers of music. The quartette traveled for a number of years, appearing in concert and vaudeville, and always pleasing, both on account of their personality and musical ability. Mr. and Mrs. Argall are so attracted by this part of the country that they have purchased property at the Highlands and intend to build before long.

DANIELS - TURNER BETROTHAL HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED

That little fat fellow with the bow and arrow has scored two more bulls-eyes. The victims of Cupid, to be married shortly, are Miss Francis Turner of Carmel and Mark R. Daniels of Pebble Beach.

Miss Turner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Turner, who came from Butte, Montana, nearly a year ago to establish their home.

Mark Daniels is at present a prominent member of the Del Monte Properties Co. organization, in charge of laying out grounds and parks. For a time he was an assistant secretary of the interior in charge of all national parks. The late Franklin K. Lane was his chief.

Pointer for the Housewife.
The woman who reduces herself to a frazzle and her family to nervous wrecks does it by trying to do each separate piece of work to perfection. We all like a perfectly appointed household, but it is vastly more important that a home should be comfortable, where the family likes to gather, than that it be spotless. Housework, done right, is more healthful than almost any other work. Making beds is an excellent exercise for a sluggish liver, but don't forget that a tired housewife may be rested and refreshed by a brisk walk in the fresh air. Fatigue is often caused from bad air, and with the lungs filled with pure air the body is able to throw off the poisons.

Pick out the important things to be done daily and do them, reserving time and strength for those things. The important thing is meals. They mean more to the family than anything else, as they are the fuel which keeps you going.—Exchange.

Oil Prospects in Australia.
Analyses of petroleum gas at Roma, Queensland, have been made which show it to be considerably richer than the gas from most petroleum wells. Using American standards of pressure and temperature in absorption tests, it is estimated that the Roma gas will yield 2 pints of gas per 1,000 cubic feet. The mines department has decided to continue boring below the gas strata, in the belief that oil will be found. Difficulty in obtaining casing is delaying further boring at Marburg, Queensland. The bore is now over 400 feet down, penetrating sandstones and shales which contain productive coal measures, while tests of a sample of the sludge from the bottom of the bore reveal a small percentage of oil.

"Millions for Defense."
Charles C. Pinckney was one of three envoys sent by the United States to France in 1797 to settle disputes which had arisen between France and the United States. The American grievance was caused by the seizure of American vessels by France. The French grievance was that commercial privileges had been granted to England. Talleyrand, the French foreign minister, refused to receive the envoys, but it had been conveyed to them by secret agents that before any settlement could be reached it would be necessary for the United States to pay a large sum of money, which was, in fact, little more than a bribe. It was then that Pinckney made his famous declaration that the United States had "millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute."

Movie Theaters in Rio.
It is at the cinema theaters that the Cariocas (citizens of Rio de Janeiro) know real comfort; for, unlike our moving-picture houses, those in Rio have spacious waiting-rooms, where you sit, listening to excellent music, until the hour for the first reel comes round. The pioneer house of the kind inaugurated this custom, and now the people refuse to stand outside waiting for the even hour to arrive or to enter after the film has started. With so much profitable space taken from the auditorium, the movies in Rio Janeiro are not as great money-makers as with us. The American favorites are popular, quite outclassing Italian and Brazilian film stars.—Harriet Chalmers Adams in National Geographic Magazine.

Ralph Pearson, the celebrated authority on etching, gave a series of lectures here last week to a group of local artists. The processes of the art were thoroughly handled, and the artists were much pleased with the work accomplished. Each member of the class did some etching under Mr. Pearson's criticism and all found the process interesting and profitable. It is not often that a gathering of such well known persons in the art world is found taking instruction under one leader. They were: DeNeale Morgan, C. Sumner Greene, Cornelius Botke, Joseph J. Mora, Dr. Alfred E. M. Culbertson, Ida Maynard Curtis, Dorothy Wegg, Mary J. Coulter and Caroline Blackman.

Carmel artists now have an etching press of their own. It was bought for the Arts and Crafts and was secured largely through the efforts of Cornelius Botke by popular subscription.

Genevieve Daniel, scenario writer and collaborator with Calvin Johnson, has been appointed local staff correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle. She is also the representative of the Monterey Cypress in Carmel. She recently completed a scenario, "Pearl Lustre," which she has sent to Larry Giffen.

From a San Francisco newspaper we glean an account of William P. Silva's exhibit in the famous Galeries Simonson in Paris. His work, including a number of Carmel studies, has attracted wide attention in the French capital. The Paris edition of the New York Herald says: "Silva is one of those American painters who have added to a point of view and a talent essentially national a strong and supple technique acquired by study under the great teachers of Europe and by much thoughtful observation of significant works of the past."

Herbert Bashford will read selections from his own poems at the Carmel church tonight.

Mary Grace Hamilton, A.B., M.A., is conducting a school for coaching. It is unique in that it offers the only opportunity in Carmel for young people to obtain high school or university work. Miss Hamilton is the "good pal" type of teacher who makes school work a joy. Her instruction is so intensive that her pupils are often able to make two years of school work in one year or even less time.

Carmel Holme produced The Piper at the Mt. Tamalpais open-air theatre last Sunday afternoon before 5000 people. It was a beautiful performance and fully justified Mr. Holmes' arrangement of the old story by Robert Browning and adapted by Josephine Preston Peabody. Mr. Holme is now in Carmel, and will shortly begin gathering his cast for The Mission Play, to be produced here in August.

Edith Daly of the San Jose News and her husband spent some time in Carmel recently.

Miss Ada Champlin, the artist, has returned to Carmel and is now building a studio on her property in the south end of town. In the party are Frederick Zimmerman and Orrin White, both artists. Miss Champlin's mother, Mrs. H. C. Champlin, and her sisters, Janet and Katherine, are all here for the summer.

William T. Kibbler made a four-day trip to the city last week to get a Gould top for his machine. Then he topped off his stay with a theatrical debauch. It was Leo Dietrichstein in "King Toto" at the Century one evening and the next evening he found Ruth Chatterton and Hattie Miller playing the "Angry Truth" at the Columbia. Doe gives the encouraging news that the movies are showing to small houses, while the spoken drama is again coming into its own.

Tom Cator says that he has to go away whenever he wants to get any work done. That probably accounts for his trip to San Jose this week. He expects to come back with a large part of his "Aladdin" work accomplished.

Miss Pauline Sperry and Miss Alice Tabor, who recently built the Tabor Sperry cottage out on the Point, are spending a week or ten days here. Both ladies are connected with the faculty of the University of California.

Van Wyck Brooks, essayist, critic, all-round literary man, who has been in New York for some months, has joined his family here. He will do some important work during his local sojourn.

Lawrence Morris, a writer, whose home is in Albany, N. Y., is in Carmel for several months. He has taken a cottage here and will do much magazine writing.

A. M. Palmer, originator of the Palmer penmanship method, so much used in our schools, is here from Cedar Rapids with his wife. Their fellow townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. Rappe, are also sojourning in Carmel.

faced with lack of funds with which to buy the needed equipment. Our volunteer fire department is willing enough and have all of the pep and interest that any organization could, but it is terribly discouraging for them to go on indefinitely with the absurdly inadequate apparatus they have to depend on. A new siren is the only new thing the department has and that will not help any in putting out a fire, though it is a valuable asset in other ways. We hope to work out our problems with as much expedition as possible and to a successful conclusion, but it will require some heroic methods.

The following tabulations will show, first in Table I, receipts, expenditures and amounts on hand for the first four months of the current year, viz., January, February, March and April. On hand January 1, 1922, $6394.24

	Recd.	Expd.	Remaining
Jan.	$334.93	$556.97	$6172.20
Feb.	276.34	941.32	5507.22
March	261.87	1433.43	4335.25
April	106.49	728.90	3713.25

Total 3660.62
This shows that nearly half of the funds are already expended with eight more months to go, and many obligations already due.

Table II, following, is intended merely to give some idea in detail of how city funds were expended and were taken hit or miss as samples. Some items cover four months and some only one.

Salaries—four months	$820.00
Rent of city hall—four months	120.00
Light—street, etc., four months	75.00
Fire hydrants, 10—four months	120.00
Telephone	25.00
Fire siren	286.64
Garbage—four months	148.00
Road grader	336.00
Work on streets—four months	902.42
Printing and publishing—four months	434.00

For the information of those who may not be informed in this matter, let me add that the city's accounts are open at all times for the inspection of its taxpayers who may satisfy themselves in this direct manner as to the expenditure of funds.

Signed
WILLIAM L. MAXWELL.

REVIEW OF BOOKS IN CARMEL LIBRARY

By Ann Burroughs

ENTER PRINCE AND PRINCESS DETECTIVE

It's a great detective story Alice MacGowan and Perry Newberry have given us in "The Million Dollar Suitcase," as everyone knows who followed it in the Post last year as "Two and Two." But apparently everybody didn't get those Posts or missed some of them or liked the tale so well they want another read of it for the library copy is never in. It hasn't been in long enough yet in fact to try to attract them.

Because all of us do know what a keen detective story it is, I needn't even hint the fun I had eating up the details of the plot so as to follow Perry's clever sustaining of suspense and his unexpected but convincing solution. Nor shall I need to say, to stimulate your interest, which of the characters I think are Miss MacGowan's contribution and how much I enjoyed knowing them. I think that we ought to give Trustee Newberry as little town worries as possible so that he will have time to collaborate on another story.

A SPLENDID FIRST NOVEL

"Lost Valley" by Katharine Fullerton Gerald seems to me an astoundingly well written first novel. It is the story of the search for a half-witted but beautiful young girl who has strayed from her home in a remote New England valley irresistibly attracted by a monkey who travels from country fair to country fair, and from metropolis to metropolis, with his Italian master. The pursuer, a charming and unusual girl of the early twenties, is the heroine. There are two heroes, or rather a hero-villain and a hero. The former awakens in the mind and spirit of Madge, the heroine, a sense and appreciation of beauty; the latter woos her as fantastically as only a gently mad Irishman may.

The book is charming for its people and for Mrs. Gerald's careful relating of them to each other. The narrative spins along with no bypath too long and none unentertaining. One would read far to find, for instance, so pleasing a narrative nook as the Jee Gam episode.

THE GAY SIR HARRY

Sir Harry Johnston can tell a jolly tale as "The Gay Dombey" and "Mrs. Warren's Daughter" have testified. And that he is interested in carrying on the tradition of the more interesting English novelists, his themes and methods would indicate. The older ones of us will delight in his middle-aged enthusiasm for Fielding and Dr. Johnson. The younger ones of us will delight in Sir Harry's details of virago duckings, female and male persnickittinesses, daring adventure, romance misinterpreted, etc., etc., unaware of the chain of rare humorists of which the author is a link.

His last novel, "The Man Who Did The Right Thing", is full of East Africa, a field with which one feels Sir Harry was long intimate. The background is vivid and detailed enough to be used as a reference book on the subject. The history of British East Africa is traced from the eighties to the present and the entire region from the coast to seven thousand foot peaks is travelled many times.

Sir Harry has loved Africa and he has loved people through a life richly lived. He appeals to me as a much more rewarding subject for light reading than the gentle, weak-tea middle-agers headed by the prolific Archibald Marshall.

MARIONETTES AND THEIR MAKING

Children and grown-ups too-oo owe thanks to F. J. McIsaacs for taking them, so to speak, behind the scenes of a famous travelling troupe of actors in the "Tony Sarg Marionette Book". Wouldn't you like to know how an ordinary man in his ordinary clothes by simply standing still can be made to look like a giant, or how old Porter Gruffanuff is turned into a doorkeeper, or how the undeniably horrible countess becomes a beautiful young girl before your very eyes? Of course you would. And it is just such magic transformations which are made plain to you in this little volume. There is magic here, true—but much that is practical besides; details for making the puppets, the secrets of their control, and even two simply fairy tale plays for your first experiments.

It seems fascinating child's play. One wishes one were a handy-man father on a vacation with a bunch of half grown youngsters in order to work off the marionette-making enthusiasm the book engenders. But more than that, one comes to realize the intricacies of the art and to respect the patience and the devotion and the genius of Tony Sarg who has done so much to revive and make practicable in America this ancient and delightful form of drama.

Vagrant Impressions of The Pine Nut

"An Oyster is a lazy thing,
It cannot whistle, dance or sing,
And as a bird within a cage,
It never can become the rage.
To entertain one's friends or guests,
Canary birds are far the best."

If I name the author of the above, heard it in the city hall preliminary to a board meeting, and it didn't emanate from Helen Parkes, poetess. She'd probably scorn such lowbrow stuff. She's getting ready to compile a volume of sonnets on busted water pipes and the like, but no one seems to be ready to come forward and give her the dope. We all like to stand back and let George do it when it comes to any definite information. Well, I'll be the goat. Here are two things for Miss Parkes to consider when she gets up that report to the State Railroad Commission:

A friend of mine started in one day for a shampoo. She wet and soaped her hair thoroughly, then started to rinse, but the pipes refused to gush, so she sat for three hours with a yard of black hair covered with soap, while some one up the line a mile or two, took a bath.

One day three people of Carmel got thirsty at the same time, so they decided to get a drink (from the public tap) and it caused such a vacuum in the pipes that everyone rushed to see whether the new board had made a mistake and bought a booster pump.

By the way, does any one realize that we have the only simon-pure aesthetic board of trustees to be found in this glorious old U. S. A.; that the recent Carmel election was writ up in about 3800 papers; that the result was heralded far and wide as a victory of Art over dirty ducats. Many letters, both pro and con, have come from various parts of the country relative to the local situation.

Evidently it was all such blooming good advertising that we are apt to be fairly deluged with curiosity seekers—those who have a mad desire to touch the outer hem of Literature and Art.

Carmel is certainly distinctive—the home of the artist and the bootlegger—probably the only community in the world where there are no social distinctions. Where is there another place where the owner and manager of the leading hostelry reads "Hamlet" during all his leisure hours, or where the man who does scientific laundry collecting in the day time, plays Shakespearian roles by night,—all of which moves me to write further of distinctive Carmel institutions.

I was gloating over my crimson rambler as usual about 8:30 in the morning when the Marshal passed. He gave me the strict military salute and a shy smile. When he is taken unawares and looks pleasant he always looks ashamed of it for an hour after. Does the dignity of his position sit heavily upon him, forsooth, or does he fear that I will waft him a long-distance kiss across my hydrangeas? Pie, pie, Marshal, dear. 'Tis not for me to add to your troubles.

By 8:35 we get to going about as follows:

"Nice day, today, Chief."

"Ya-as, no rain today."

"Do you think the fog will drift in by and by?"

"Na-aw, no fog today."

Then he gives me a stern glance or two to make sure that I'm not throwing any egg-shells among the bushes or harboring a wheelbarrow that doesn't belong to me, and drifts on. If I failed to greet the Marshal in the morning, I should feel that the sun had not punched the clock on time or that I'd missed my morning coffee. He's a stimulant all right—at times, quite heady—and about the most distinctive thing around here. The Prince of Wales has nothing on him in the way of titles. He is Tax Collector, Superintendent of Streets, Mounted Escort for all visiting dignitaries, Protector of Unprotected Females, Chief of Police, Bailiff of the Court, Traffic Cop, Head of the Board of Censorship for Undesirables; then he makes the fire in the City Hall on comes to the meeting he gets them a chair and he runs a checking bureau for the trustees' overcoats. He sure leads the strenuous life.

The Marshal really gets lots of "kick" out of his titles, but his joy is clouded by a great sorrow. The casual observer wouldn't guess that behind his sunny, cheerful nature there is a dark cloud of tragedy. The ignominy of having to enforce the cat-licensing ordinance sits upon him heavily. If any one thinks it's easy to tag and collect the tax on every six tabbies, let him try it. If it wasn't for this humiliation being put upon him, I think he'd really like cats, for he is noted far and wide as being a friend to animals. The Marshal's horse, "Billy", is a real Carmel institution. As you enter Ocean Avenue from any of the side streets, the familiar creak of Billy's harness as he stands patiently waiting, saddled and bridled, but unhitched, in front of the City Hall, announces that Gus is within the sacred portals. A near-sighted stranger from the Middle West, seeing Billy standing with that "His Master's Voice" kind of expression, remarked that the statue was very life like. She had just come out of Curtis' Art Gallery and she wasn't yet over her dream.

The Marshal likes dogs too. He would do anything rather than have to be called upon to kill any of them. When a tramp dog makes his appearance in town and it becomes necessary to take drastic measures, Gus gets busy and finds him a home. Many a little girl or boy may thank Gus Englund for his pet.

In fact, the Marshal is a regular clearing-house for disputes, settlements, troubles and difficulties of all kinds. If there is anything under heaven that's unpleasant to do—if there is something that no one in your family wishes to do—send for the Marshal. And if he can't do it, even if it's piling the distance between two election notices, Billy can.

If I've shown some partiality,
To his nice old Martiality,
Let me now seek neutrality,
With another whimsicality.

Distinctive Carmel Institutions! How about our milk shrines? They have already been told in song and story, and there is but little left for my poor pen. Like the little wayside shrines of France, they gather in the pennies. And they have a magic all their own. You trip gaily forth in the bright moonlight and deposit your

ASPIRANTS FOR PREFERMENT AT PRIMARIES

George W. Holm of Salinas has made formal announcement of his candidacy for the office of county recorder. For more than two years Holm had been deputy auditor and assistant purchasing agent.

Thoroughly familiar with all department of the office through actual experience, his friends claim he would make a competent official should the voters place him in the responsible position to which he aspires. Holm is a Monterey County boy, born in Gonzales. After completing his education in the public schools, he took a two years' course in accounting and general office work.

Prior to entering the military service, May 11, 1917, he had much business experience. As deputy auditor a great deal of the accounting work fell upon him, including the preparation of the monthly financial report and the treasurer's balance sheet, showing the condition of all county funds. He says:

"If I am elected as county auditor I will not continue as county purchasing agent. The two offices should be separated in the interest of efficiency and good of the public service. One man cannot do justice to both positions."

Holm has a long following of friends who will rally strongly to his support during the campaign.

With the recent announcement by John E. Wallace that he will be a candidate for county recorder, the coming political campaign was given added interest. Wallace is well known and popular. He is a son of Justice David Wallace and was born and raised in Salinas. For the past two years and a half he has served the people well as sealer of weights and measures.

"Tis said Wallace is eminently qualified to fulfill the responsible duties of the office to which he aspires. For thirteen years, before becoming sealer, he was with the Southern Pacific Co. in clerical capacities, the last eight as chief of transportation, with headquarters at Watsonville Junction. As chief clerk his duties required him to turn out something like 4500 reports monthly.

Friends of the young man, predict he will make a winning race in the ensuing campaign.

In this era of efficiency, it is a safe proposition that when we have a man in public office who does his work well and satisfactorily to keep him there. This observation is prompted by the announcement that F. H. Abbott, county recorder, will be a candidate himself.

Six years ago Abbott was appointed to the office on the death of Recorder P. Soto, who had two years to serve. In 1918 he was elected for a four-year term. Carmel gave him a big vote at that election.

Rat Heroes.

Now that the authorities are making war on rats. But the despised rat once did the French a good turn, according to Colonel Repington's history of the war. He says: "On the parapets of the front trenches are what look like window flower boxes. They contain chemical materials for making a smoke screen to lift the German gas when it comes. All the rats in the trenches congregate round these smoke boxes when the gas comes, as they realize that they save themselves from suffocation. This process of lifting the German poison gas was discovered quite by chance. During a gas attack some straw was set on fire by accident and forced the German smoke up. The rats came in swarms to squat round the burning straw and gave the French the hint."

Energy in the Atom.

The knowledge of radioactivity, which has been growing since the discovery of the X-ray and of radium, has revealed the atom as a tremendous storehouse of energy. The atomic energy contained, for example, in the two-inch piece of chalk with which the lecturer makes his diagrams is calculated to be 300,000,000 foot tons—enough to raise 100,000 tons 3,000 feet. At present we do not know how to liberate the power. We know that it exists only by observing the spontaneous disintegration of radioactive substances; but knowledge sometimes comes quickly; persons now living may see the day when atomic energy will be used.—Youth's Companion.

Oldest Daughter of Thomas Jefferson Attracted by Quiet Life Within Convent Walls.

Martha Jefferson, oldest daughter of Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States, came near to being a catholic sister. She was a student at the school of Abbaye de Panthemont at the time the French Revolution was in progress. The daring and flippant infidelity of the French frightened and disgusted her, and she clung to the calm and serene life of the convent with all her strength. Her mother had taught her in the ways of the Church of England, but the surroundings at the school overreached this, and she decided to become a nun.

She wrote to her father asking his permission to adopt the veil. No answer came for several days, and then Jefferson appeared in person. He greeted the girl with a tender smile, interviewed the abbess, and then came out and told the girl to pack her things. Her school life was ended at that moment, and the next day she was introduced to society and made the mistress of her father's household. She declared years afterward that neither she nor her father had ever alluded to the subject by a single word from that day on.

THE FAMOUS RED STAR

No Wicks or Wick Substitutes

The famous Red Star all-metal burner is the secret of Red Star cooking results.

It cooks like gas, because it burns gas, which it makes from gasoline, kerosene or distillate.

It has two rings of flame instead of one. And it has the intense added heat of the red-hot metal burner. Weighs 8 1-2 lbs. There are no wicks—no asbestos rings. You turn on the gas and light it at the burner. One gallon of fuel gives 19 hours of perfect cooking heat. No kindling to split; no ashes to carry out. Just clean, even heat.

Cooks Like a Gas Range

The Red Star does any kind of Cooking, baking, roasting, boiling, frying, that any gas range can do, and does it just as quickly.

It bakes biscuits in 12 minutes; roasts a 3 1-2 pound chicken in 70 minutes. All the heat is concentrated directly under the utensil. None is wasted. Fuel Saving is fully 25 per cent. "CAESAR AND CLEOPATRA" REHEARSALS BEGIN SOON

"CAESAR AND CLEOPATRA"—Only a little over five weeks away. With a few exceptions the cast, though not yet announced, is virtually selected, and the producing staff has been working overtime in preparations for general rehearsals of the big production.

Every item of "business" in "Caesar and Cleopatra," as well as the setting, has been carefully worked out by the stage directors on a scale up in the library of the Kuster home.

The Egyptian settings of "Caesar and Cleopatra" will be contained within a cyclorama more than thirty feet in height. The scaffolding is under construction and will be completed before general rehearsals begin.

Only fifty-four persons, many of them not even residents of Carmel, constitute the membership of the Forest Theater society. This meagre number represents a total annual income to the organization of $54, just one fifth of the sum required to carry on the land contract alone, not to mention permanent betterments to the stage and equipment.

The Carmel Forest Theater is by nation-wide reputation a community institution. A treatise on out-door theaters in America is being compiled in Chicago, and forms of ownership, management and production will be described and discussed. The officers of the Forest Theater have been requested to forward statistics regarding organization, membership and general community support. If Carmel does not wake up we shall present the sorry record of a membership of less than five per cent of the resident population.

The Forest Theater employs no solicitors. Active members and well-wishers please take this matter up at once and increase the roll to at least two hundred and fifty before we present "Caesar and Cleopatra" to our summer visitors. It is the least you can do to show your appreciation of the work of the producing staff. First year's dues $2, thereafter $1 annually. Send name, address and remittance to W. T. Kibbler, treasurer, or leave at Pine Cone office.

AN ECONOMICAL MAN

"You say you've worn this hat for years?"

"Yes, sir, and it looks all right still. Twice I've had it cleaned, and once I exchanged it in a restaurant for one that was entirely new."

HE HIT IT RIGHT

He: Isn't your gown just a trifle—er—er

She: Yes, it's just a mere trifle.

twelve cents and a bottle in their cavernous mouths, and in the early morning hours before the town is awake, the cows come forth and make the rounds and when you get ready for breakfast you sally once more to the nearest shrine and you find a quart of lacteal fluid where once your twelve cents lay. An age of efficiency, I'll say.

Here living is reduced to a minimum of expense. A depleted woodpile is offset by a sack of pine cones from a neighboring lot, or some stray

Maps of our fair city are dotted with signs: "Trout here," "Mussels here," "Abalones here,"—all of which makes it easy for the tenderfoot to find material for the next meal.

Our roads are things of mystery. One day we grind our brakes over a street; the next day it becomes the site of a new house. You never do quite know where you're at.

If we don't like the way the water from the winter rains comes down on our lot, we go out and drain it off on to our garden, and then he cheerfully gets up in the middle of the night and takes his hoe and sends it back on to ours—but there's no hard feelings about it. It's just a survival of the fittest. The one who needs sleep the most may find himself in the middle of the Pacific Ocean in the morning, but we are so glad to have enough water in any form that we don't complain.

Don't feel slighted or hurt if you're left out of party invitations. The correct way to entertain is to go to a friend and say, "I've decided to give a party tonight at your house." Then you amble off down town to the Post Office and say to the first person you meet, "Oh, I'm giving a party tonight at Mrs. So-and-So's. Tell Mrs. Thingumbob to come and to bring any of her friends." In the course of your walk you say that to about eight or ten people. If you don't meet your real good friends it doesn't matter, for they'll probably hear about it in some roundabout way and come over any way—that is if they're not pernickety about being invited by the gettters-up. But you'll have a good crowd, because if your friends don't get wind of it, the guests at the hotel will, and they're always eager to hear the Carmel lions roar.

Perhaps the most distinctly distinctive things of Carmel are our gardens. Some of them exhibit the well-thought-out carelessness; some are flamboyantly colorful; others are wild and neglected (advisedly). Just now they are especially beautiful. The Spring bulbs are still in bloom and the first blossoms of summer are peeping out.

The inventive faculty of the "female of the species" is well taxed to "lamp their way through the gloom" as some one else put it several years ago, so the Carmel lantern has become an institution. The most popular form of lantern has become an old tomato can with a hole in the side through which a candle is placed, the lower part of the candle being used for the handle and the light shining through the open end of the can. It is called a "bug" or a "miner's wick" and serves its purpose admirably of revealing the chance root or tree which may block the way for the nocturnal rambler or of lighting the way for the unwary who may take a "header" on the water fixture in front of Stella Guichard's new store. The modern flashlight is rapidly superseding the more primitive methods, however, and should you wander on a dark night, you will get so used to being "flushed" that if a real honest-to-goodness burglar should appear and order "Hands up!" you would turn up your nose at him and stroll on. In keeping with our other metropolitan

it. The workman evidently believed in getting results through the power of suggestion.

Should one write of all the distinctive things of Carmel, the result would take the form of a book, rather than a newspaper article. There is the Carnegie Institute, the Mission Carmelo, and the town Library, each of which should be given separate articles. Then there is our Commedia, which has become a real institution with us, but which has been told over and over by those more expert in the telling.

I'd like to write a whole page about the funny things that appear on our "bulletin fence" near the Bakery, but if I did some one would say that I was putting out propaganda for Pine Cone advertising.

There is nothing so dear to the heart of the old Carmelite as our own beloved Forest Theater. It is the most distinctive distinction around here. People from far and near attend the annual productions which are often given with professionals in the cast. The real purpose of the Theater, however—the rock upon which it is founded—is that it is the center of community effort and the most successful things which have been produced are those in which the greatest number of our home people have worked. There are to be from eighty to ninety people in this year's production, "Caesar and Cleopatra," and the managers are delighted with the interest aroused throughout the community in making it a success. The Little Theater movement is also well advanced, and it is not unreasonable to suppose that in the years to come, Carmel will become a Mecca for dramatic producers and writers, as it is now for those interested materially in art and literature.

A DAY OF REVERENCE

Memorial Day undoubtedly represents a greater solidarity of sentiment than any other occasion which we observe. Its pure motive enables everyone, irrespective of creed, philosophy or trend of thought, to approach it without acrimony, without misgivings of any sort, but in a spirit of reverence. The cultivation of such sentiment is one of the best possible things for the nation and for the spiritual progress of mankind.

KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK

The Manzanita Club has done its share in the raising of funds to go toward the completion of the local Soldier Memorial. It is now up to other town organizations to contribute in some manner—say by giving a play or a dance or an exhibition, which the general public will be glad to support for so laudable a purpose. Let's finish the memorial.

JOHNSON TO THE RESCUE

If the people of California had no other reason for returning Hiram W. Johnson to the United States Senate next November, they would be more than justified in doing so because of his introduction of a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the federal constitution giving to Congress the right to prohibit or regulate the employment of children.

The amendment was proposed in an effort to meet the situation resulting from the decision of the Supreme Court, holding the child labor law unconstitutional.

There may yet be time to place the proposition on the November ballot in all of the states, so that the new law may be speedily enacted, and unscrupulous "big business" halted in its criminal exploitation of children in the industries.

Don't put it off any longer. If your name is not on the great register you cannot vote for county state, and federal officials in August and November. Register at the Pine Cone office.

Every Carmel visitor is a potential lot buyer and home builder. And just now the town is beginning to fill up with first-comers and former sojourners. The realtors and contractors report a lively demand.

CHICKENS IS CHICKENS

Ku Klux Klan Reaches Carmel

Complaints are coming in from various sources of chickens, stray and and sundry, who are clucking their vagrant way into neighbors' gardens, and the Pine Cone is asked to sound the first gun. The extermination of Carmelites who allow this nuisance to be broadcasted over our fair city. If we can but get a good chicken dinner out of it as part of the graft we'll make a kick that will be felt from Joe Mora's on the north to Charlie Van Riper's on the south. It's really discouraging to have a nice garden demolished by some busy Biddy. Chicken fanciers, BEWARE!!

Not altogether irrelevant, inconsequent and immaterial to the above is the oft repeated criticism of itinerant residents who come to Carmel and flit from Carmel, abandoning a cat or dog, to be a pest to the community and a care for the tender-hearted who would rather burden themselves with an additional animal than stand for hungry eyes and wagging tails. It is so easy to shift responsibilities to the dear public and then think of the Marshal, who must at least attempt to collect licenses for this vagrant population.

Look Into Thy Soul

Have you a lavender soul,
Or a sky-blue pink soul,
Or one that is carmine or cerise
Or dapple-gray or heliotrope?
It is an important question,
For you must tune up
Your surroundings to Match your soul.
So says a prominent decorator.
If you have a mauve soul and you
Live in a house with blue blinds
You are out of luck
And not hitting on all cylinders—
Not in tune with the infinite.
If you have a violet soul
And the hangings of your bed are brown,
You do not sleep well.
Maybe you have no hangings on your bed.
But maybe the brush and comb set
Is ivory or pale blue
The result is the same.
Tune up your surroundings,
But you can't always do that.
The other night we walked home
With a man who was carrying
A large, dull-red porterhouse steak
And our soul was green—and
Our codfish didn't taste right
That evening.

WONDER WHO WROTE THIS?

Carmel-by-the-Sea, Cal., is a small town, but it has the courage of its convictions. It has just ended a local electoral campaign in which the issue was: Shall Carmel-by-the-Sea remain artistic—without pavements and other "city" improvements—or shall it branch out for efficiency and strive to become a "live-wire" town? The voting was for trustees. The "Arts and Letters" ticket carried the day. Perry Newberry, an author, headed this ticket. Miss Helen Parkes, poetess, was also a candidate. It is refreshing to see authors, poets and artists boldly defying the efficiency steam roller of "practical politics", refusing to adopt a "Main Street" program and actually winning an election. May the example of Carmel-by-the-Sea spread! American idealism needs just this touch of militancy.—Christian Science Monitor.

BOOK FAIR FEATURES CARMELITES

Several of our local writers attended a meeting of the Book Fair held at the Hotel Vendome in San Jose last week. The National League of American Pen Women have a branch in that place which consists of fourteen members and to them belongs the credit of this most successful gathering of writers.

The purpose of the meeting was to advertise the books and publications of the Western writers and to provide an opportunity for them to get together in plans for their mutual benefit. The Fair was an unqualified success. It was full of color and warmth and interest. Many novelties were introduced, such as the "Million Dollar Suitcase", written by Alice McGowan and Perry Newberry. A table contained a display of the book, with a large suitcase reposing in the middle of it. Later, the suitcase was opened and a little girl of ten or twelve rose from it. The suitcase became a part of her costume as she walked about the lobby.

Miss McGowan spoke of her experiences in Texas as a country school teacher and of how she broke into the writing game. Mr. Newberry gave a recipe for making mystery stories. If each one in the audience is careful to mix the ingredients in just the right proportions, the market will be flooded with this type of literature.

Many writers who are known to Carmelites were there among them Charles Norris, brother of Frank Norris, and author of that late "best seller" "Brass", and his wife, Kathleen Norris, also writer, both of whom have lived in Carmel, and even now take much pleasure in considering themselves Carmelites. While here they lived in the Maxtone-Graham home. It is understood that they intend returning here for the summer.

David Starr Jordan, who has spent considerable time here in the past was on the program, also Gerald Beaumont formerly of the San Jose Mercury, and now a writer of short stories, J. Swinnerton, cartoonist, and his wife, who is a writer of articles and short stories, and William Rose Benet, more familiarly known as "Billy" Benet. Mr. Benet visited in Carmel when Sinclair Lewis, author of "Main Street" was here. He was on the "Century" for awhile but is now identified with that new publication, the "Literary Review" of New York City, which is making such a hit with those interested in keeping up with the literary news of the day.

Why couldn't our projected organization of Pen Women put on an affair like this? Surely there is no place in the country where there is so much material available. And then again, it would certainly give us a large amount of publicity—the only kind of publicity we wish. There are probably more people in Carmel making their living by means of the pen than in any other community in California. Other places have to import their speakers and writers largely, but Carmel could furnish both the display and program without going to outside sources.

FIFTY CANDLES

Do you like mysteries? Stories that lead up to a surprising climax with a dash and zest? If you do you will like Earl Deir Biggers fascinating story which has been made into one of the fastest moving screen stories ever seen. "Fifty Candles" will be shown next Tuesday, May 30th, at the Mansanita Theater. Advt.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XVI.—TENNESSEE

THE history of Tennessee stretches back to the year 1541 when De Soto with his party of Spanish adventurers probably reached the present site of Memphis on the Mississippi. The French under La Salle built a fort here about 1682. The English also laid claim to this territory, including it in the grant to North Carolina. It was not until 1770 that the first permanent settlement was made by James Robertson and this was soon followed by many other settlers from North Carolina. They formed what they called the Washington district, but this was short lived as it was promptly annexed to North Carolina. In 1784 the inhabitants, indignant over North Carolina's attitude toward them, declared their independence and formed the State of Franklin or Frankland. As this secession was not countenanced by North Carolina, for a number of years a state of confusion existed with two sets of officers trying to govern. Meanwhile the settlement suffered severely from hostile Indians and from the Spanish, who still held Louisiana, and controlled the Mississippi river. In 1790 North Carolina finally ceded this territory to the United States. By 1796 the population had increased to over 60,000, so Tennessee was admitted as the sixteenth state of the Union.

At the outbreak of the Civil war, Tennessee joined the Confederacy. In 1866, when the state was readmitted to the Union, there was much disorder during the reconstruction period. This led to the formation of the Ku Klux Klan, the influence of which quickly spread throughout the Southern states. This secret organization took into its own hands the suppression of crime and the administration of justice.

Tennessee contains 42,022 square miles, and is sometimes called the Volunteer state. It is named after its principal river, which is a Cherokee word meaning "Crooked River" or "bend in the river."

There is a better thing than the great man who is always speaking, and that is the man who only speaks when he has a great word to say.—William Winter.

The dull world has got the wrong phrase; it is he who resents an affront who pockets it; he who takes no notice let it be to the dirt.—George MacDonald.

THE REASON
"Why did you name your boy 'Reginald Clarence'?"
"Because I wanted him to be a fighter. I figure that in our neighborhood a boy named 'Reginald Clarence' has got to fight."

LOCAL IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 2

Notice of Sale of Real Estate

Pursuant to Resolution No. 113 of the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea duly passed and adopted May 16th, 1922:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that default having been made in the payment of the assessments of the several sums due, upon the real property hereinafter described, and assessed thereon for the cost and expenses of doing the following work, and making the following improvement, in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, County of Monterey, State of California, to-wit:

1. That Ocean Avenue, between the West line of Junipero Avenue and the West line of San Antonio Avenue, shall be graded, and paved for the full width thereof, exclusive of sidewalks and park spaces; said pavement to consist of 5 inches Hydraulic Cement Concrete.

2. The park spaces on Ocean Avenue between Junipero Avenue and Monte Verde Street, shall be graded, so as to present an even slope between the two pavements.

3. The park spaces on Ocean Avenue between Monte Verde Street and San Antonio Avenue, shall be graded, a width, sufficient to make the height of said park spaces where they abut the pavement, the same as the height of the pavement and to have a gradual slope away from said pavement. All to be done to the lines and grades shown on that certain grade map for said street filed in the office of the City Clerk of said city on February 1st, 1921.

4. For the drainage of said Ocean Avenue, there shall be constructed therein a storm sewer, with the necessary catch-basins and lateral pipe, from Dolores Street to Carmel Bay.

NOW, THEREFORE, under and by virtue of the power vested in me by the provisions of Section 12 of an act entitled: "An act to provide for local improvements upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities, such act to be known as 'The Local Improvement Act of 1901' as amended, I will, at public auction, on the 19th day of June, 1922, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., of said day, at my office in the city hall on the north side of Ocean Avenue, in said municipality, sell the following described lots, pieces or parcels of land, the assessments against which, shall not have been paid, or against which agreements and waivers shall not have been executed, the smallest amount or each of said lots, pieces or parcels of land as shall be necessary to realize the amount assessed against the same, together with the penalty of twenty-five per cent and interest, in the order of their numbers on the map hereinafter referred to, as provided for in said section of said act:

That the following is a description of said lots and lands all of which are within said municipality, and within the district of lands shown upon the map of said Local Improvement District No. 2, on file in my office in said municipality, and each of which is given a red ink number on said map and on a list on file in my office reference being hereby made to said map and list for a particular description on each of said lots and lands.

The following are the red ink numbers shown on said map and list in the order of their numbers thereon, the names of the owners of the property, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown, the amounts of the assessments, the amounts of the penalties, the amounts of interest due and the total amount due on each such lot or subdivision of land for assessment, penalty and interest.

REALTY AND BUILDING

During the last week a number of new houses have been started, among them Dio L. Dawson's and Dr. Herman A. Spoehr's in the Eighty Acres; also L. Lewis on San Carlos and Fifth, Mrs. Bassett on Monte Verde and Fourth, J. A. Stoney on San Antonio near Thirteenth, and Elizabeth Gillis on Casanova near 11th.

W. A. Torras is also starting a building on Dolores between Third and Fourth, and T. C. Clark has begun work on his sister's home on Fourth and Junipero. Miss Orre B. Haseltine is building on San Antonio and Eleventh.

Calvin C. Hogle reports the following sales: Two lots on San Antonio near Thirteenth to Dr. Marion Burke of Palo Alto; four lots on the Point, near Van Riper's, to Miss Gertrude Towne of Hollywood; house and two lots on Monte Verde to Perry Newberry; two lots on Sixth and Mission to J. A. Stoney, and Mabel S. Nichols two lots on Sixth and Mission; Bayard G. Newell, two lots on Eighth and Dolores, on which he will build at once and will shortly go into business; Elizabeth K. Elliott has purchased additional land adjoining her home now building on the Point.

Ground was broken for our new postoffice on Dolores street Tuesday morning last. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy about July 15th.

VERSATILE ARTIST EXHIBITS IN CARMEL

Mary J. Coulter, painter, artist, craftsman—is sojourning in Carmel. She has with her a small collection of paintings, etchings, wood block prints, all of which stamp her as an artist of rare attainment. She was a student of the late Frank Duveneck, one of the greatest of American painters; she has studied craftsmanship in Italy, particularly bookbinding, and been the curator of etchings and paintings in the Art Institute of Chicago. Her knowledge of the crafts covers jewelry, weaving, bookbinding, batiks, pottery and porcelain.

Mrs. Coulter has painted in the Hawaiian Islands, and in the East as well as in California. Particularly pleasing is her work done on Cape Cod showing the Portuguese fishing boats, the bright colors of the women on the wharf and the vibrant brilliance of the sunshine. Carmel enthusiasts will find much satisfaction in her sand dune pictures and in her marine sketches of our locality.

As a worker in heraklry, Mrs. Coulter is fast becoming recognized. She has just completed an overmantle decoration for the steamships Matsonia and Maui, well known Matson Line steamers. It shows the old royal Hawaiian coat of arms of the late King Kalakaua wrought in color and gold and in silver leaf, preserving the tradition and symbolism.

The proprietors of the Mission Tea house arranged with Mrs. Coulter for an exhibit of her work on Friday and Saturday of this week to which the public is cordially invited.

Cure for Flat Feet.

Are you flat-footed? If you don't know, the next time you take a bath, observe the impressions that your wet feet make. If your feet are normal, there will be a narrow line from heel to toe on the outside; if they are flat, the entire bottom of the foot will show.

How can you cure flat-footedness? Buy a handful of marbles, place them in two rows, and start picking them up with your toes. To do this you must curl up your toes; as a result the muscles of the feet will be exercised and thereby strengthened.—Popular Science Monthly.

REDS AND BLUES MEET SECOND TIME

The boys of Sunset School played another baseball game Saturday morning on the new uptown playground, and the Reds again defeated the Blues, this time 14 to 1. Good pitching by Waldo Hicks and Freddy Ammerman and sharp fielding by their team-mates won the game. The Blues got three men on first and put over their lone tally in the second; after that they were helpless. The statistics herewith:

Reds 0 7 0 0 0 3 2 2 14

After the game arrangements were completed for a three game series, beginning tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock, the second contest to be held on Friday, June 2nd. If each team wins a game the play-off will come on Saturday, June 3rd. These afternoon dates have been set, to enable everybody to turn out.

Movies twice a week in Carmel begin next Tuesday evening. A great deal of care has been exercised in making the bookings.

How to Know Poetry.

We literates have been taught to read poetry, and taught also that it is highly commendable to enjoy it. In order to know what kind of poetry ought to be especially enjoyed, we read other books, written by critics. In order to understand what the poetry that ought to be admired means, we read other books by professional grammarians. By the time we have finished this preparatory reading, we are somewhat confused. We are in doubt as to what poetry actually is, and how it differs from prose. In this predicament we fall back on the printer. If every line begins with a capital letter, we assume that it is poetry.—Samuel McChord Crothers in the Atlantic Monthly.

Ceilings Made of Newspapers.

The demand in Manchuria, China, for old newspapers is very great. These are used principally for the first layer of paper on interior walls and ceilings of houses. Chinese houses in Manchuria invariably include no ceilings when completed, the ceilings being installed by the tenants or owners after the masons and carpenters have completed their part of the contract. The ceilings are made of a framework of millet stalks, which are, as a rule, first covered with old newspapers and then with a layer of Chinese white paper. Partitions made in the same manner are also largely used in both shops and dwelling houses. Previous to the war old papers from abroad sold at 4½ cents a pound, while the prevailing price for Chinese and Japanese paper is now 3½ cents a pound.

FLATTERY EXPLAINED

Edith: How absurd of you to tell that awkward cousin of mine that she dances like an angel. I don't believe angels can dance, anyway.
Jack: Neither do I.

NOT A DUPLICATE

I kissed fair Kate, one summer's night,
Not knowing of Louise's hate,
But when I turned to kiss Lou too,
She cried, I'm not a dupe like Kate.

Real Estate at Public Auction

The public will be interested in the sale, by the city, of a considerable number of lots, on Monday, June 19th. The property to be sold is that upon which the owners have failed to pay assessments, and which have gone delinquent. The legal publication, giving details, is printed in this issue.

No worries or wrinkles. Look for Rudolph's great announcement on another page. adv

Climax Furniture Store

The Big Store on Franklin street is offering very interesting inducements to home-furnishers.

Particularly in furniture, which is going at 20 to 30 per cent under current prices.

Suites and odd pieces in Ivory and Gray Enamel, Walnut, Maple and Oak—priced lower than at any time during the last eight years.

For instance: An Ivory Dresser (rather small, of course) enameled, on hardwood, at $21.00.

We will have about 200 pieces at these low prices.

It is quite assured that prices are to advance somewhat in all lines of merchandise—which fact increases interest in our offering.

And you'd better annex a few of those Grass Arm Chairs at $4.50 each.

Call anyway. If you don't buy, the Big Store will give you standards for comparison.

Pine Needles

There will be a special Memorial Day service at the Carmel Church next Sunday.

The Barnacle will be occupied for the summer by Mrs. A. Hall of San Francisco and her daughter of Stanford University.

The Carmel Church is soon to let the contract for a social hall and primary rooms for their Sunday school. The building held outside of the church building, one in the parsonage, the other in the chapel.

Announcements are out relative to the summer school to be conducted by the local Arts and Crafts. Classes in painting, music, dancing and drama will be held. An extended notice of the courses will be given in next week's Pine Cone.

An invitation has been extended from our club of Arts and Crafts to the Bankers of California, convening this week at Del Monte, to make of next Saturday a Carmel day. The daughters are to be special guests of honor. A program of unusual interest has been arranged. Mrs. Frederick Colburn (Frona Eunice Waite Colburn), author of "Yermah, the Dorado" a book dealing with prehistoric California, will be one of the speakers of the day.

Mason Schlosser is again—yet—still in town. Mason is so much of a Carmelite that his leaving, not his coming, should be chronicled. Anyway, he's been selling concrete in hundred-thousand-dollar lots all over the state, so he should have enough to keep the wolf from the door. His mother accompanied him on this trip.

The Monterey county board of supervisors have gone on record as favoring the Wright "dry" act, by unanimously adopting a resolution to that effect. This act passed by the legislature, was held up by a referendum petition and is to be voted on at the November election.

Mrs. W. T. Dummage brought to the Pine Cone office a day or two ago a bunch of the finest Gen. McArthur roses grown in this section. The rose is thornless, and is an enormous deep red bloomer with glossy leaves and long stems. It is a rival of the American beauty. Mrs. Dummage should be congratulated on her ability to raise such a specimen.

The Monterey County Federation of Women's Clubs met the early part of the week in Pacific Grove. An interesting program was given and much constructive work reported by the chairmen of the various sections. DeNeale Morgan, representative of the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts, invited the federation to make Carmel the next meeting place.

Purely Personal Paragraphs

Mrs. William Herron and Mrs. Bush, both of San Francisco, are spending a few days in Carmel.

Mrs. B. M. Costa returned from her old home, San Jose, where she spent five days visiting friends and relations.

Miss Nancie Daniels will be away from Carmel for several weeks. She departed for Oakland on Monday morning.

Miss Clara Smith, sister of Professor Sey of the University of California, is the guest of Clara Smith Lawler at La Playa.

Mrs. Isabel Bunting is leaving for the East this week. She will go to New York via New Orleans. Mrs. Bunting will sojourn on a ranch in northern California.

Mrs. Margaret Wallace and son, Kevin, are spending a week with Grace near Sacramento. The visit is in the way of a celebration of the elder Mrs. Wallace's ninetieth birthday.

Edward J. Sullivan of Los Angeles, well known in Carmel, was a Highland visitor last week. Also a guest from the southern city was Miss Emily Bolle, who is on her way to Victoria, B. C., to spend the summer.

The next meeting of the Monterey County Live Stock Association is scheduled to be held in King City on Saturday, June 3.

W. L. Witherbee of Sacramento was in Carmel last week. Since he and his wife were last here they have spent some time in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams, who have been sojourning in Pasadena for the past three months, are again in our midst, and are occupying the Snow cottage on Casanova street.

Misses Marian and Nancie Daniels, left last Friday for San Francisco, where she remained a few days before returning to Carmel.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Maude Arndt entertained a small group of friends at tea. Miss Laverne Husted of San Jose delighted the guests with a group of songs. Her voice is a dramatic contralto and possesses richness and promise. She is studying with W. E. Johnson of San Jose. Miss Janie Johnston accompanied the singer in her usual sympathetic way and gave several piano solos as well. Besides Miss Husted and Miss Johnston, there were present Elizabeth White, Byrdie Husted, Eunice Gray, Mrs. E. R. Hurst, Mrs. A. L. Purdy and Mrs. Maude Arndt.
